

Robichaud Given Position In D.A. Office At Capital

William Carver Arrives To Take Over Practice
In Truckee

William A. Carver, a Sacramento attorney and recently with the state division of architecture, has arrived here to take over the practice of Francis Robichaud, who has been named by District Attorney O'Shea of Sacramento to be in charge of the domestic relations division of the Sacramento district attorney's office.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Carver have expressed a fondness for this area and hoped to make it their permanent home and he wishes to enter private practice.

Robichaud will remain until May 1 and during that time his successor will acquaint himself with local affairs so there will be no interruption or confusion in the change-over.

The community will regret the departure of the Robichaud family but will join in wishing them continued success.

O'Shea announced he has appointed Robichaud to the job, approved recently by the board of supervisors in a program aimed at cutting down the drain on county aid-to-needy children welfare funds.

Robichaud will be provided with two investigators of the detective type in locating of fathers who desert their children and force their families on ANC relief.

Last year, Robichaud opened a law office in Truckee. He will begin his duties under O'Shea about May 1.

Commenting yesterday on the domestic relations division of his department, O'Shea said that its work will be more than "just locating deserting fathers."

"As a matter of fact," he said, "it will include prevention of chiseling on ANC funds by families not qualified for them and checking to see if fathers actually have abandoned their children, or are purposely remaining away from home to receive aid."

State Participation Awaits
Action Of Committee

Governor Goodwin J. Knight yesterday signed into law SB No. 1 by Senator Harold Johnson creating a California Olympics Committee of five members and appropriating a total of $1,000,000 from the beaches and parks fund to finance its activities. The act becomes effective only when California has been given a nod by the international Olympics committee for the winter games in 1960.

Squaw Valley has been chosen as the site by the national committee and is expected to be the selection at the Paris meeting in June.

Birth Dates In April—

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kumble feted their sons, Martin and Michael, who had birth dates on April 8 and April 1.

It is not for us to tell the powers that be how to regulate the water in either Lake Tahoe or the Truckee River to best serve all concerned, but we can't help wondering the whys and wherefores as this regulation effects our own particular interest—the fish population. For the past several months, upward of five gates have been kept open at Tahoe, keeping a heavy volume of water flowing down the river, despite the continued reports of below normal precipitation in the area. Then, just as the rainbow start to spawn, all the gates were closed tight for a few weeks, causing the water to drop to near nothing and naturally leaving the spawn for thousands of trout high and dry. Sometimes we wonder why these things are permitted to continue. It costs nearly a dollar a pound to put catchable trout in the river, and we are all glad to pay that amount, but we can't understand why thousands of trout which would result from the natural spawn are allowed to be lost through out-of-state regulation of the water. We stand back and apparently are helpless to prevent this terrific loss to the sportsmen of California and Nevada.

SKI GROUPS VOTE TO CONTINUE WITH MERGER AT MEET

The nominating committee comprising Bill Bechdolt, James Stuart and Dodie Post will present their report at the next meeting Friday, April 15, at Tahoe Inn.

The board of directors are to be made trustees of all the ski club properties.

Families are urged to set aside Friday, April 22, as there will be another family night in store.

S. P. Roundhouse Closes Here After 80 Years Service

New Train System Results
In Lay-off of Many Employees

The eight remaining employees of the Southern Pacific Company at the Truckee roundhouse were relieved of their jobs yesterday and the roundhouse, operating for more than 75 years as one of the company's main facilities, is inactive.

The notification was the latest in a series of suspensions in this area by the railroad. Previously a score of employees in the yards and shops were transferred or laid off and all the train crews with the exception of E. A. Meiss and E. C. McReynolds have left.

A new system of operations which sends complete trains from Sparks to Roseville and return has gone into effect, making the helper facility here unnecessary. Most of the former Truckee personnel has moved to Sacramento, Roseville or one of the other main centers of the railroad. Clerical personnel, freight and passenger service, water and electrical crews and maintenance of way gangs are not affected in the change. Yard crews are expecting notice of abandonment of their jobs in the near future.

Electric Rates In Utility District Will Be Reduced

Study Will Be Made Here
To Adjust Water
Costs

The board of directors of the Truckee Public Utility District authorized a reduction of 6 per cent in electric rates at their meeting Tuesday afternoon.

This reduction, Manager C. Edmunds said, will effect all domestic, and commercial lighting users, or about 65 per cent of the district's customers. The heating and cooking and the large and small power users will not be effected.

The decision of the board, Edmunds said, followed a study which was authorized early this year. The savings to customers will be approximately $3000 a year and the new rate will go into effect May 1, this year.

This marks the sixth reduction put into effect since the district was formed and started operations in 1927.

The district also has under study an adjustment in the water rates, Edmunds added. The electric revenues have been used for some time past to subsidize the water operations, the revenue from which has not been sufficient to meet the expenses. Much of the water expenses, Edmunds said, has been due to the obsolescence over the past 50 years during which time little maintenance or replacement was made on the systems.

The board authorized Edmunds to consult with the board of supervisors regarding the erection of a joint community building. The board has received an offer from James Robertson of Glendale to sell the property on Bridge street opposite the Donner Hotel for $11,000 or $5000 more than the offer of A. R. Gharard for the location of the old Truckee Garage.

The site on Bridge street has a frontage of 103 feet by 188 feet deep.

The old ice rink property on the south side of the Truckee River, that the chamber of commerce asked the district to acquire, comes up April 25 at which time the board authorized Manager Edmunds to appear and bid for the property for public use.

NEWS NOTES FROM TAHOE

By Ethel Joslin Vernon

Easter has come and passed once more very quietly in the Little Town Beside the Lake, and while there were no very exciting events going on around the locality, we can at least say that everyone was in good health and enjoyed the usual good Easter dinner. There were no lakeside Easter Sunrise services here for the first time in several years, as it was not convenient for Bishop Noel Porter, who usually is in charge of this service, to be at Tahoe at this time. The regular Sunday School services were held in the Community Center, non-denominational as usual, with capacity attendance. In the younger children's classes there are now 27 regular attendants. The Catholic Church was also reported filled to capacity for the Easter Services.

Egg Hunt

The Easter Egg Hunt on the Tahoe City Commons was sponsored as usual by the Tahoe City firemen. The sun shone bright on Easter morning, and the dampness from the shower of the night before did not interfere with the rabbit nests in the least. The Easter bunnies seemed to know just where to find them, and proceeded to fill each one with brightly colored eggs. While the egg hunt progressed on the commons another of its kind was going on around Granlibakken Ski Lodge. Managers Al and Jean Henry put on an Easter egg hunt there for the first time in the history of this ski area. The fun was for adults as well as children.

Sunrise Services

An Easter sunrise service was held at 5 a.m. Sunday, at the top of Squaw Peak, and a great crowd of visitors braved the early chill of the high places to sing Easter hymns and watch the sun rise over the lake, which can be clearly seen from this high point, by looking down the valley and over the eastern canyon range. The peak towers to something over 8000 foot level, and while the snow never melts up there, there is a magnificent view, many miles in all directions.

Returns Home

Gary Henry spent the entire Easter week with friends of the Henry family, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Donaldson and family of San Leandro. He returned by plane to the Reno Airport on Sunday evening, where he was met by his parents. His plane had circled Lake Tahoe around 5 p.m., and when Gary landed at the port he told his parents about looking down on Tahoe, and added: "I waved to you from up there."

Easter Guests

In the C. W. Vernon home Easter houseguests were daughter A-C Florence B. Vernon, home for the holiday from Hamilton Field, and a friend, Staff Sgt. Margaret Warren. On Sunday the family enjoyed a scenic ride around the lake to the nightclub area, and had a sumptuous Easter dinner at the Wagon Wheel.

Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stark, in their lakeshore home on the R. Stanley Dollar estate, entertained through the Easter week two of their sons and their families. Jay Stark, wife Dorothy and sons Jerry, Gary and Jimmie, arrived on April 3rd and spent the Easter week, while Rome Stark, wife Elaine and daughter Rolaine, with two young friends, came up from their Long Beach home just in time for Easter Sunday. After attending the egg hunt in Tahoe City on Sunday morning the family returned to Dollar Point in time to enjoy a big Easter dinner before the guests all left for their respective homes Sunday evening.

At Daughter's Home

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Duffee, former old-timers of Tahoe for many years in the past, who for the past several years have resided in Sacramento, spent the Easter holidays visiting at the Lake Forest home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henriksen. The Henriksens' attractive new block home is nearing completion this week on the main highway just opposite the State Park buildings.

Gosses Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Goss, former Tahoeites who are now living in Livermore, visited in Tahoe City during the past week. Mrs. Goss has recently been convalescing after an eye operation, but is now feeling very well again. The Gosses who sold their Tahoe City home a short time ago, now plan to begin construction soon on a new home on their lot in the Lake Forest locality where they now keep a large house trailer for convenience when they wish to stay home awhile.

Home Again

Home from vacations the past week just in time for Easter were the following couples: Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Mayfield, from an extended tour of the coastal regions; Mr. and Mrs. James Martin who spent most of the winter season in Palm Springs where Martin was occupied as a painting contractor; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Guth, proprietors of Tahoe Lodge, who enjoyed several weeks traveling around "South of the Border, down Mexico Way"; and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pomin of the Pomin Cottage Court, who spent most of the winter vacationing by auto and boat alternately. They visited Florida, and later went by boat through the Panama Canal, and enjoyed a voyage along the coastal waters of the Caribbean Sea. The vacation was a lot of fun, they say, but they are very happy to be home once more at Tahoe.

Parachutes Drop

One day during the past week, up along the snow slopes of Squaw Valley, the crowds of visitors were interested, and a little surprised to see parachutes dropping on the packed snow. There was a large marking on the slope, as for a landing point, and five paratroopers dropped one by one from a circling plane, each landing within 50 feet of the mark—some a little nearer than others.

More Rain

Weather Observer Arthur Frodenberg reports that the short but drenching rain shower here on Saturday night measured .16 inches precipitation at his measurement location on Sunday morning. He said that temperatures are gradually rising now as April wears on, and that the highest for the past week came on the 9th, when the thermometer reached 57 above. Low morning temperatures were about the same as last week, he said, and about normal for the season. Frodenberg said he doesn't

NORTH TAHOE

By JUDGE HARRY CHARRISON

On the March

Well, it looks as though the spring trek has really started in earnest. Every time we take a walk uptown there are some of our old faithfuls to greet you, and the amazing thing is that they all say the same thing, "are we ever glad to be back" Just came from the Buckhorn where we had dinner and for the first day of opening the place was nearly full. Saw Gil Johnson of Gil's Barbeque and his family, they spent the winter down in Alhambra, where they say the traffic is thicker than molasses, says they will be open earlier this year.

Contracts

Sam Faulkner, the local plumber, is in town, and will be off and on from now on. Of course he still will run the Iron Fireman proposition in and out of Reno. Sammy tells me he has just nailed a contract for $50,000 and more on top.

In Carson

Andy and Mrs. Wickland made a visit here. They have a home in Kings Beach but are presently living in Carson City. Andy is working on the Carson Hot Springs, recently purchased by Dr. Thomas D. Wyatt of Crystal Bay. It is said that a hospital is in the making, but the doctor will be back at his office at Crystal Bay this summer.

Big Show

Mary Abbott tells me that we can look for an announcement about a talent show that is in the making, it will be on a certain Wednesday night and some of the finest local talent will be called to give a show that will be long remembered. You will be surprised to find how much comedy and dramatic talent your next door neighbor has up his sleeve, so keep on the lookout for the date.

Additions

Eugene Jarvis of Eugene Chalet

is expanding again. This time an addition to the patio which will be glassed in and will be ever so comfortable. I wonder if Gene is doing anything with his trolley that runs down to the lake? It's pretty cute, but oh boy, as you go down the lake seems to say, "Come in the water's fine," go up and try it some time.

Prospect

Had a card from a very good Rotarian, Charles H. Collett, whom I met at a meeting in Tahoe City last summer. He says he will be up with his good wife, pretty soon, as he would very much like to make his home here at least for the summer time. He is in the oil field specialties in Burbank.

Spring Cleaning

I never saw such goings on as there is at the Kings Beach resort. Bee and George Ridgway have been chopping what little snow there was off the porch, windows and office shining like a shilling. They told me they visited Joe King last week and he is out and around and actually driving a new car. Can you beat that? He will be up here anytime now, and get down to business.

New Car

Another brand new car adorns the street outside Dr. Sklar's office, who does it belong to? Why none other than Audrey Welch. It sure is purty. Keep your keys out of it Audrey, or else the doctor will be borrowing it. I wouldn't blame him, either.

Easter Services

Easter throngs visited all the churches over the Easter season. The Community Church which was held at the Brockway Theater, Kings Beach, and was well attended by both young and old. Ruth Mizner was at the piano, Kay Feltz sang "The Holy City" and Joellyn Ashton sang "The Lord's Prayer." Both were beautifully rendered. The pastor preached "What Did Easter Cost?" and the choir sang. It was announced again about the chow mein feed this Sunday at 6 p.m. at the church auditorium. Don't miss this, whatever you do. And Lions, don't forget we shall meet and attend church this Sunday morning at 11 a. m. sharp. Let us show our strength, besides doing us a whole lot of good.

Visitors

The Meredith Siples got a surprise last weekend when Dee's nephew, Dallas Kalbaugh, and his wife, dropped in on them for a visit that was all too short. Dallas is in the oil business at Burney.

On the Job

Now we have our old friends and neighbors, Earl and Mrs. Gray, real estate dealers, back at their lake home in Kings Beach. They said they couldn't find anything new, as they had been reading the doings of the area in the Sierra Sun all winter. Try getting it sent to you when you go out next winter.

English Visitor

What a surprise to see Mrs. Lausche's mother at the Easter service last Sunday. She had just arrived from England by plane. Mrs. Lausche called her mother a few days ago and there was nothing to it, just hopped a plane and here she is. Just like calling her from the next town.

Batching

Saw Dick and Kenny Lavery having a wee morsel at the Buckhorn Inn a few nights ago. They are batching it while Ruth is on a trip to Sacramento. Kenny says his mink is coming along in great style. Ruth says she will have to wait a little while before she gets that mink coat.

Visiting Relatives

Young Larry Free is having the time of his life these days. He has his grandparents, his uncle and aunt, from way back east to make a fuss over him. Doug and Mrs. Free have Mrs. Free's mother and dad, and her brother and his wife. Her mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawrence, are from Capital Heights, Maryland, and her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawrence, Jr., are from Alexandria, Virginia. What a happy family at the Free home to be sure, they also attended the Easter service.

Visitor

Marie C. Hart of Lake Tahoe, was a visitor to this area last week, was sure glad to see her. The lake would not be the same without her cheery greeting. Marie has been in Reno, and I can safely say hurry back it's beautiful here now.

Party

Barney Gilmore gave a party in honor of Ann Taylor of the bay area. It was a brilliant affair and games and refreshments added to the fun of the evening which was Saturday last. Those attending included Ann Taylor, Diana Abbott, Joellyn Ashton, Barney Gilmore, host Lewis Fellows and Jay Stuart. Barney's parents were there but in the background, where parents should be, huh?

Sickness
 Mrs. Eda Judy had a message from Francis Stansbury, daughter of Jessie Hale, formerly of Kings Beach and who lived here many years. Mrs. Hale is now in Oakland. We are informed that Mrs. Hale has suffered two strokes in the past week, and is of course in serious condition. We are sorry to hear of Mrs. Hale's condition, and we all wish her recovery may be very fast. Frank Hale, her husband, who passed away a few years ago, was a barber in the store next to the theater in Kings Beach.
 Every time a man smiles it seems to add something to his life.
 Mrs. Glendora Rockholm was a patient at the Tahoe Forest Hospital this week receiving treatment for a back injury.

SUMMIT SCENE

by FRAN COUILLARD

by F. Couillard
With the stars for a background and a blanket of white for its altar—a crimson Easter Cross bled on the Soda Springs Ski Hill last Easter eve—causing cars to stop on the busy highway, causing those who were celebrating their last Saturday night in their favorite haunt to pause reverently and remember that Easter has a significance, causing the sky to reflect that crimson which is significant and causing a few moments of silent prayer in the midst of festivities. We do not know the names of the many skiers who silently rode to the top of Beacon Hill that eve—we do not know the many who slowly skied in formation in the form of a cross in that blackness, but we do know that the Easter Cross they left burning from their torches in the white snows of the Sierra was as beautiful and as awe inspiring as any cross could have been in the silent dawn of Easter morning. Its perfection was without blemish and to Milton Hogle, Carl Buck and those who planned a silent Easter eve service we say "thank you."

For winter months we should change our column designation to "Frantic Scene."

Saturday full lodges, skiers packing their boards over their shoulders up and down the highway—headed or returning from their favorite ski runs. Wet steamy clothing, smelling slightly "wooly" hanging in front of fireplaces. Ski boots placed in the line of traffic for harried and hurried employees and employees to fall over. Ski clothes scattered here and there and forgotten. The inevitable follow-up letter: "When at your lodge last weekend I left my parka, shoes, sweater and camera. Would you please mail same to me?" Magazines and newspapers scattered over dining room table, lobby and cocktail lounge. Laughter, noise, the omnipresent juke boxes forever grinding out their grist of clanging and shrieking. Dark circled eyed employees checking in—checking out. Maids dashing hither and yon to strip a room whilst eager skiers chafe and worry over the delay to get their accommodations—whilst the couch being prepared for them is still warm from a checking-outer. Dishes clattering in the kitchens as dragging culinary crews frantically get one meal out of the way to prepare another. Bar boys tugging at beer cases and reloading ice boxes for the fourth thirty rush occasioned by ski tow shut down time. The never ending litany of "supplications" at the front desk: "Do I have to drain my car? How cold does it get at night? How long will the snow last? When is your next snow? (As though we stage it for them.) When does the season end? How come no hot water in my room? Can we borrow a deck of cards? Can I borrow a needle and thread—just busted out my ski pants? Any band aids for blisters? What to use for sun burn?"

And behind the scenes (Kitchen Department): "Didn't expect this large a crowd. Underordered. Out of milk, out of spuds, out of lettuce!" (Various lodges then swap supplies.) Second cook is sick. First cook then hops from one station to another doing both jobs. Tired waitresses, still putting on their cheerful show in the dining room, stonily stare at one another in the kitchen. Dishwashers wearily stack their dishes—wearily douse same, wearily stand them up in racks to drain. Tired pantry men prop themselves up between orders. "T's the time of year when seasonal 'lodge families' get heartily sick of one another. Five months under the same roof—stranger when they meet at the beginning of the season—adjusting themselves to one another's whim, disposition, the peculiarities that are inherent in all of us. Residing next to one another in help's quarters. Using the same iron, the same ironing board, the same washing machine. And the end of the season prayer of their employers: "Please let them make it—just 'til the end of the season!" And the outcome! Many wonderful friendships made. Some enmity.

And so we think that in the winter months we should change our column designation to "Frantic Scene."

Donner Summit Lodge closes its dining room and bar for a clean-up job. Rooms still open. Beacon Hill Lodge plans to "slumber" for awhile. Ski tows closed until next Sunday. Parking areas languish in the after Easter sun and stretch lazily without their ski racked cars. Ti's a lazy, beautiful Monday morning!

Before we let you put on your beach shoes and start your summer tanning—we are reminded of one more Easter "trick" which we would like to memorialize before we close up our skiin' for the season! This is an annual funster for the Soda Springs Ski Hill habitues! 'Tis called the Golden Belcher! Ring any bells? An obstacle race none the less—the boys and gals roped together for a downhill obstacle race—the obstacle being that there stuff that makes you belch. Nineteen couples roped together, slave fashion, trimmed in the unique ski bonnet of the Easter Skier, slip down the snow covered hill—and the refreshment stands number four. Understand that the winners were Norm Saylor and Karen Sharick and despite belches—they made it in four and a half minutes.

Pleasant news comes from the Buck front. Dick Buck (he of the charmed life) reports from Walter Reid Hospital in Washington, D.C.—that he's getting along fine. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Buck wonder if they should travel D.C.ward to visit Dick—or wait until a probable leave will bring him back to them for awhile.

Pleasant news to the Loren Wolfards. Son Bob, now at Lowry AFB in Denver—takes himself a wife—small, pert Esther Fane of San Francisco—whom Bob met on the Soda Springs Ski Hill. Younger brother, Freddy—travels to Denver to see Bob off on his matrimonial adventure.

dash back from a winter of vacationing to ready for their May 1st opening of their Sky Lodge. From wintering in Mexico—they headed coastward to visit Helmar (Swede) and Helen Bergman at Watsonville. Picking up the two H's they turned southward and the four visited Bert and Dotty Barber in the delightful town of Mentone in San Bernardino County. The two H's and the Barbers wish to send their "hello" to all of their long time mountain friends.

The Zorichs (Bud and Barbara) lock up their little gingerbread ski shop this after Easter morning and head for Sacramento to pick up small, black-eyed daughter—Debbie. Debbie has been Easter vacationing in Santa Cruz with her aunt and cousins. Debbie will be delivered to Papa and Mama Zorich in Sacramento.

We had a quick "hello" over the phone with Bea (Browning) Stone this past weekend and are sorry we didn't get much more than a "hello." Bea—Stew and their three youngsters—are perennial visitors to Soda Springs.

The John Johansens entertained Eleanor's old school friend, Kay Deahl for Easter with the Easter weekers—we saw Bud, Madylon and Starr Walton walking up the road toward their Soda Springs cabin.

Learn How to Pull Together

Saw a kid go by the Clarion
office on a brand-new coaster wagon yesterday—and it reminded me of when my brother and I were about forty years younger.

Our folks weren't poor, but there wasn't enough to buy two wagons for Christmas. We got one between us. Dad made a rule that we each could have it for a week—but the boy with the wagon was responsible for keeping the kitchen wood-box filled.

Seemed a bargain to Bud and me—at first. But soon we discovered it was no more fun playing alone than working alone. It wasn't long before we were sharing the wagon in return for sharing the chores.

From where I sit, you can't enjoy a privilege yourself if you're going to deny it to others. There are some folks who want the right to enjoy their favorite beverage—but would deny me my right to an occasional glass of beer. I doubt if such people get their full
"share" of happiness, though.

Uranium fever seems to have hit our area. I stopped a prospector down the canyon the other day to see if he was having any luck. He informed me that the prospects are good but that the competition is keen. It seems that every hill between here and Verdi has a couple of prospectors on it. Maybe it means a new boom for our area.

Has anyone noticed the swell job our county prisoners have done cleaning up the area around the jail. It certainly will be a pleasant sight to see the balance of our back yard in the same condition.

Our thanks go to Mel Thornton for allowing the Kings Beach Boosters to erect their sign on his property, advertising the short cut. This cooperation means we will have a large sign on the other end of the cutoff advertising Truckee.

This coming Tuesday is the day, the day that your Chamber meets at the High School Cafeteria, the time 7:30 p.m. No dinner. We will have a speaker for the evening, discussing an issue that is of interest to all.

We have had our industrial development committee added to the counties committee, giving our area better representation. With the Southern Pacific Company continuing to curtail their operation here it is a must that we develop new payrolls for our immediate area.
